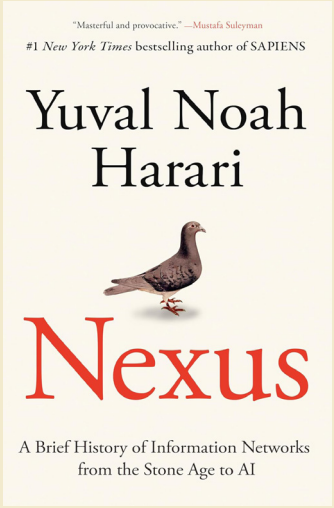
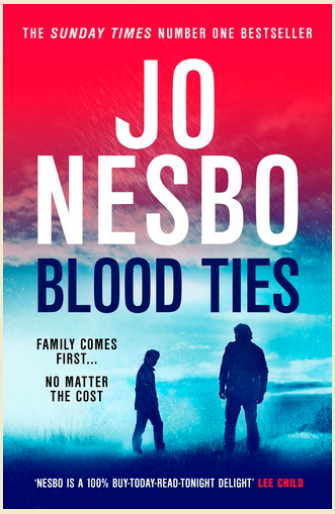
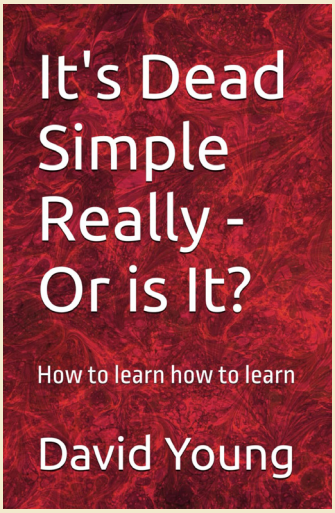
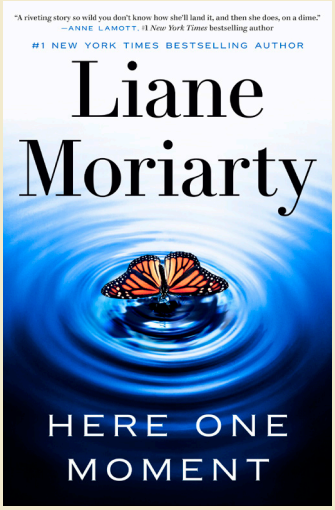
Bindu Books

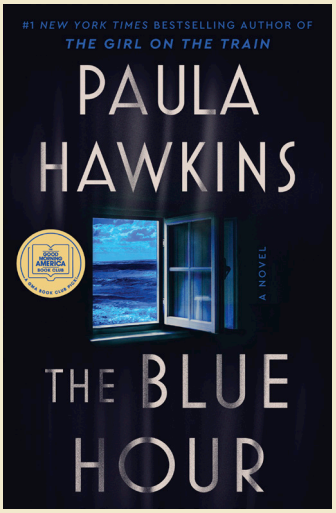
Book Catalogue

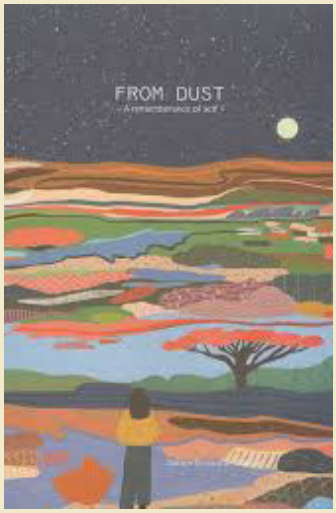


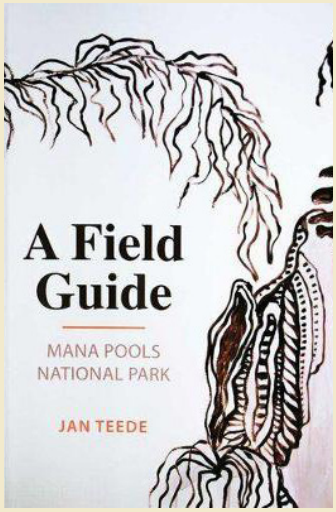


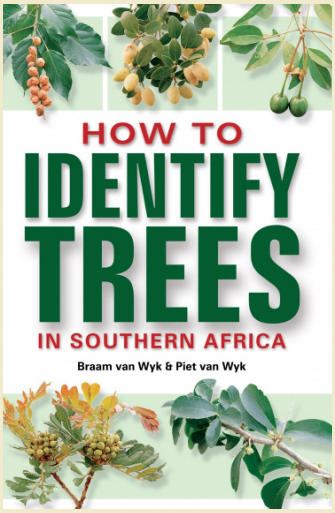


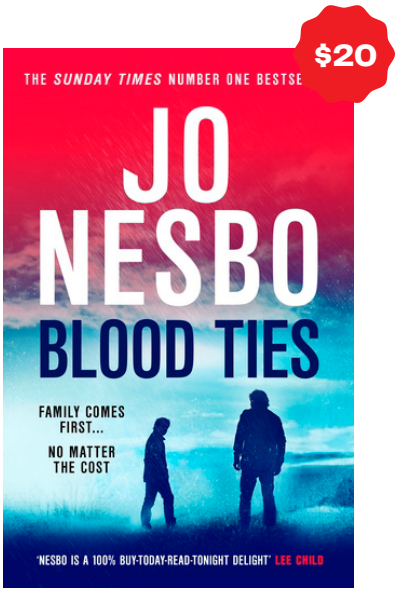












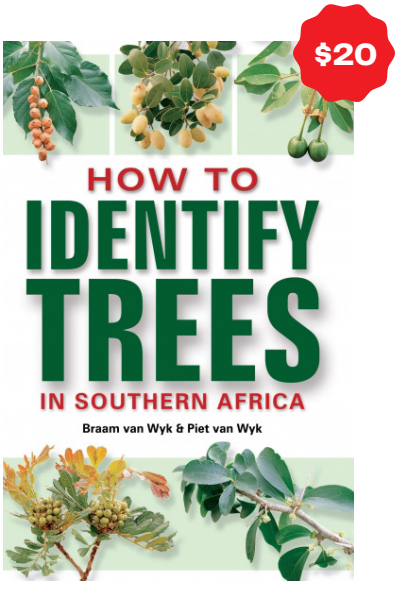
Blood Ties by Jo Nesbo

Brothers Carl and Roy Opgard, who've climbed to power in their small town of Os, face a new threat as Sheriff Kurt Olsen uncovers evidence linking them to past murders. Life at the top is about to get dangerous, with the body count set to rise.

$20

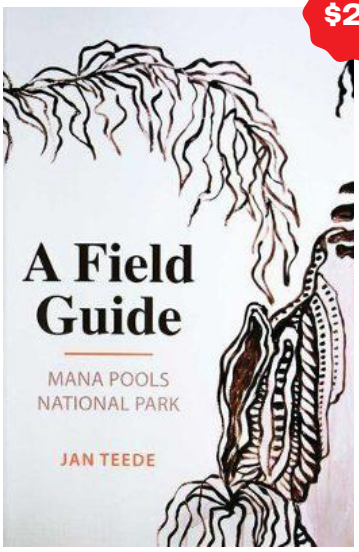
Bo and the Whale Shark
by Kirsty Jean

Bo is just an ordinary boy who goes on an extraordinary, magical adventure with a whale shark. But like all adventures they require courage and perseverance...is he able to save his new shark friend? And can one small boy make a difference? With a little help from his friends, anything is possible!



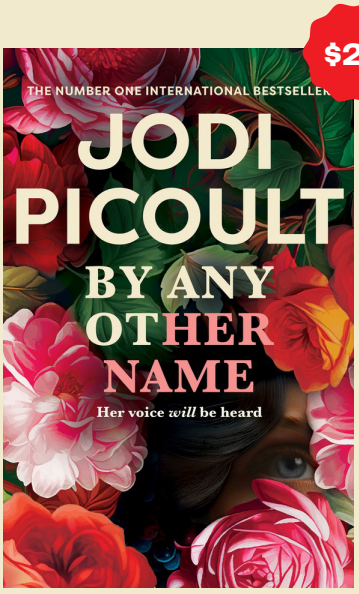
How to Identify Trees in Southern Africa
by Braam van Wyk & Piet vanWyk

A direct and straightforward and effective guide to tree identification. Tree identification is generally perceived as difficult, all the more so in a botanically diverse region such as southern Africa, where about 2,100 species occur naturally and several hundred more have been introduced from elsewhere in the world. Now updated to reflect changes in taxonomy, this book provides the background knowledge essential for tree identification.



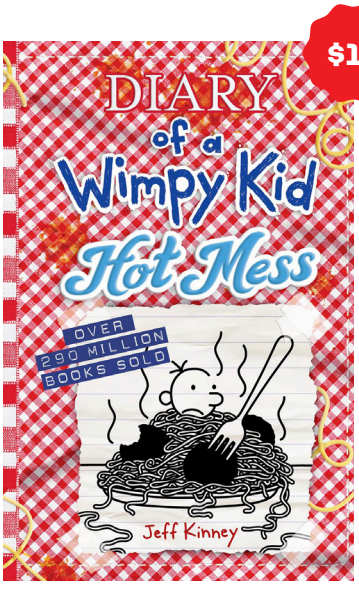
A Field Guide: Mana Pools National Park
by Jan Teede

This field guide, created by various specialists, covers mammals, birds, reptiles, fish, arthropods, and plants in Mana Pools National Park. It helps visitors, guides, and park rangers by consolidating essential information about species found throughout the Zambezi Valley.



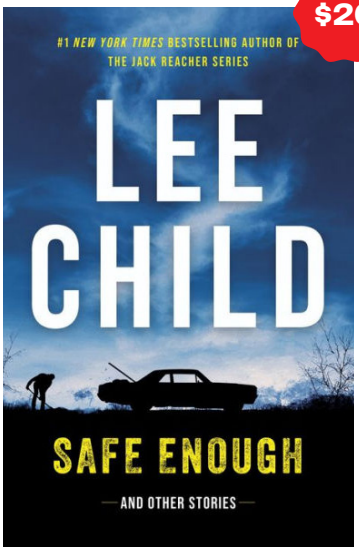
By Any Other Name
by Jodi Picoult

In Elizabethan London, young Emilia Bassano is a ward of English aristocrats. Her education has endowed her with a sharp wit and a gift for storytelling, but still she is allowed no voice of her own. Forced to become a mistress to the Lord Chamberlain, who oversees the theatre, Emilia discovers the power of stories to beguile audiences. Secretly, she forms a plan to bring a play of her own to the stage – by paying an actor named William Shakespeare to front her work.



Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Hot Mess
by Jeff Kinney

The pressure is building for Greg Heffey, who discovers that when you mox heaps of family, a tiny beach house and sweltering heat, it's a recipe for disaster. Speaking of recipes – the secret ingredients behind Gramms's famous meatballs have been closely guarded for years. Can Greg unpack all of his family's mysteries before their vacation is over? Or will he just stir the pot.



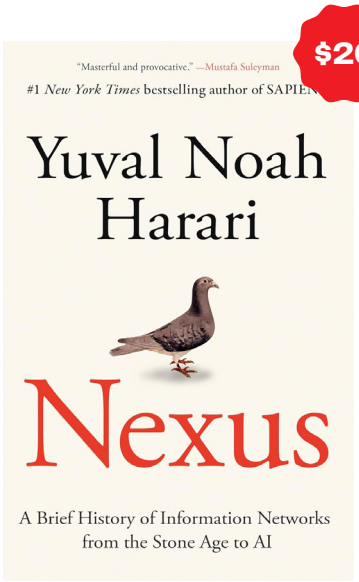
Safe Enough
by Lee Child

A drug-dealing hitman unburdens his fears to a stranger. An overlooked rookie cop is assigned to the department's file room. A ruthless killer only kills bad guys. A methodical bodyguard quits his job when he's outsmarted. A military mission is planned to perfection.

Here are 20 pulse-pounding short stories collected for the first time in one edition, from the world's number one thriller writer.

Mulberry Dreams
by Violette Kee-Tui

A day before Emma's 10th birthday, her life changes irrevocably through an unspeakable tragedy and she finds herself ripped away from everything she holds dear- family, home and homeland. What seemed to be a happy childhood, with loving parents and a beautiful mulberry tree in the garden was ripped away. It takes Emma 30 years to summon the courage to return from Seattle, finally ready to put together the puzzle pieces of her past. Her quest for answers is backdropped by a country in turmoil and a history which, once so blurry, comes into painful focus as the ghosts of her childhood take shape.



Nexus
by Yuval Noah Harari

Stories brought us together. Books spread our ideas – and our mythologies. The internet promised infinite knowledge. The algorithm learned our secrets- and then turned us against each other. What will AI do? Nexus is the thrilling account of how we arrived at this moment, and the urgent choices we must now make to survive- and to thrive.

From Dust–A remembrance of self by Natalie Dumont de Chassart

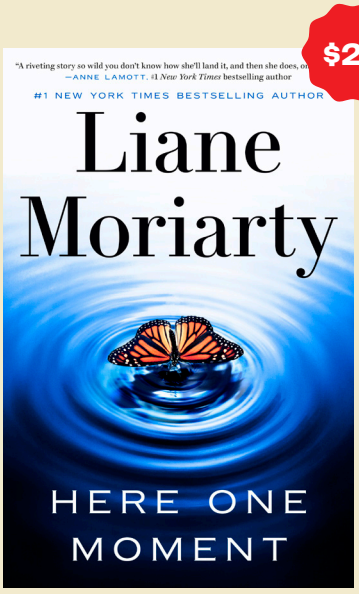
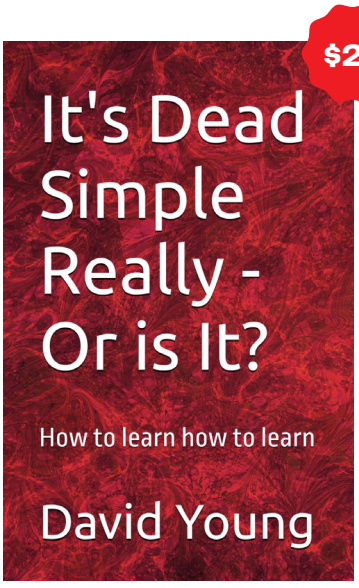
A collection of poems, illustrations and art that tap into the wonder of human existence. The pages tell of beauty through pain, healing through heartbreak, and the fullness that comes with deeply experiencing our connection to ourselves, the Earth, and each other.



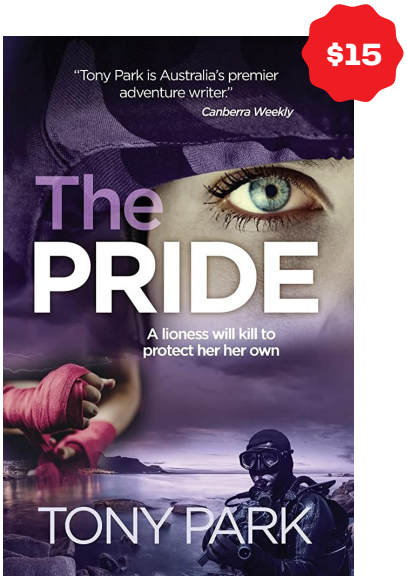
Here One Moment
by Liane Moriarty

Liane Moriarty's Here One Moment is a brilliantly constructed tale that looks at free will and destiny, grief and love, and the endless struggle to maintain certainty and control in an uncertain world. A modern-day Jane Austen who humorously skewers social mores while spinning a web of mystery, Moriarty asks profound questions in her newest I-can't-wait-to-find-out-what-happens novel.



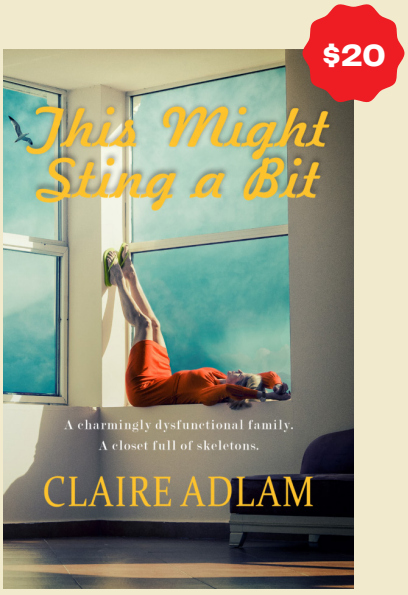
It's Dead Simple Really – Or is it?
by David Young

There is no better investment that you can make other than investing in yourself. This book is about how to develop and grow your skills. It will help you to learn how to learn and if you employ other people this book will help you to help your people to learn. Learning how to do is a skill and like all skills, you can learn to do it better.



The Pride by Tony Park

Ex-mercenary Sonja Kurtz seeks revenge after her daughter Emma is assaulted by a poacher. Fleeing from a local gangster, Sonja's path of destruction spans Zimbabwe to Mozambique. Emma must rescue her mother amidst a potential darker conspiracy in Southern Africa's underworld.



This Might Sting A Bit by Claire Adlam

Meet Kat, a fun-loving, sensible teen on a Zimbabwean farm. A tragic accident plunges her into chronic pain and addiction. Doctors' reckless prescriptions worsen her plight, leading to a life-and-death struggle. In treatment, colorful characters try to bring her back to light. This Might Sting a Bit is a witty, hopeful tale of survival and family secrets.

Magic and Masala
by Violette Kee Tui

Sharifa, determined to reveal a secret that threatens her family's unity, travels from Cape Town to Bulawayo, revisiting her past against the backdrop of the 50s Group Areas Act. Her story weaves through her legacy to her great-grandson Harry and his son Calvin, who both grapple with childhood scars and the impact of a tragic event.