A magical parade

Once upon a time, Galaxia people were celebrating the mayor. An evil man stole a magical wand which was to be given to the mayor. The man wanted to show everyone that he had advanced powers.

During the parade, the guards realised that the magic wand was missing. Alex the mayor's son called his friends and helped look for the wand. A prime star appeared on top the man's head. Alex shouted, "look, a star!" The children went to the man and tried taking the wand but he refused. An angel appeared and told him to give it to the children. They took it to the guards and there was great joy. The parade went on well.
