

A Dream Come True

It was Friday, and Lily, bouncing out of bed, went to the breakfast table. "The holidays!". An hour later she was with her parents, driving to the SPCA. When they were there, Lily found a sweet little diluted calico cat, whose head was quite small. "When will we get a cat?" she enquired. "Probably in two weeks", said her mum. When they got home, Lily realised that tomorrow was her birthday! After a game of cards with her dad Lily went to bed and snuggled down under her duvet. Her birthday! Tomorrow! That night Lily dreamt of kittens. Next morning Lily found a cat on the end of her bed. It was the best gift ever; her dream came true.
