

La-Verne Nyamayaro

7-12

A magical parade

Once upon a time there lived a town called wysteria , a magical parade appeared once a year, on the full moon. boats covered with glitters and flowers and shimmering fabrics with creatures like unicorns, dragons, and majestic lions pranced alongside, their scales and feathers glimmering in the light. enchanted melodies played by golden instruments filled the air, accompanied by the sweet scent of roses . Vendors sold moon dust and macarons and starbursting cotton candy, adding to the wonder. As the parade passed, it left behind a sprinkle of magic and glittering diamonds , filling the hearts of all who witnessed it with awe. The night was filled with sparkle and enchantment, a truly unforgettable experience.