A Magical Parade

Mary sighed, "I'm bored. I don't feel like doing anything. Ugh!" As she flipped through a magazine, an idea struck her! "The map I found yesterday! It said open on Tuesday. Today is Tuesday!" Mary said aloud. She called her friend, Amber, and waited for her to arrive. "Ding-dong!" Mary quickly let Amber in. "Let's unroll it!" Amber exclaimed. As they did, their excitement was building. The map showed a path to the park! They took it and when they arrived, there was a tiny fairy garden they had never noticed before. Inside the garden was a parade of miniature fairies and gnomes marching around to magical sounding music. "Wow! What a great way to spend our day!" said Mary.
