I hold a dream so dear to my heart. A dream I have no doubt will be a reality one day. A dream of a rainbow nation free of hate, crime and discrimination. I dream of a nation where every child can go to school and achieve their dreams, a world where they can play freely without any fear. I dream of a nation so full of love, compassion, unity, peace and tolerance where we can hold each other's hands and work together. I dream of a nation with a high quality of life and everyone has access to basic needs and care. A nation so green and lively all animals and vegetation are conserved for our future generations. Where everyone has a voice and plays a part in colouring this rainbow nation.
