

Dream come true

Dreams are not real but up to this day I guess they are.

As a child I always wanted a telescope to see the moon and the stars. My parents could not afford the telescope because they had a low income salary. One weekend during the month of February my uncle Tom came to visit. He told me a lot of things to do if I get a telescope. That night when I was sleeping I had a dream getting a new telescope.

When I woke up the next morning I noticed that my uncle had left the house. In the afternoon he came and gave me a parcel. I opened the parcel and saw a brand new telescope. I was so happy and I hugged my uncle. I thanked him for the delightful gift.

I was so happy I almost touched the sky.
