

The Adventure I Never Expected

Sergei was an ordinary boy. One day on his way from school he was snatched into a bush. "I am Agent Doof and I work for a spy agency, we need your help on a secret mission to stop the two most wanted Russian spies; Boris Vladmia and Natasha Katerina." "I think you have made a mistake!"

The agent ignored me and proceeded to explain what kind of danger the world was in. We quickly got into some car that also flew!

Meanwhile, Boris and Natasha arrived at their fearless leader Dr Maksim, who had planned to place bombs in key cities across the world. "Good job, our bombs are ready to launch." 'let's take the rocket to space.'

"Not so fast." said Agent Doof. "Sergei, run and stop the countdown, you are the only one that can stop this.'

"How?!"

"Cut the Burgundy wire not the red one."

"Cut it quickly."

"Will our spies save the world or will the world be blown to pieces?"
